World Health experts have repeatedly urged the public to practice good hand hygiene since the coronavirus outbreak began. The WHO advises washing hands “regularly and thoroughly” with soap and water or an alcohol-based hand rub if the soap is not accessible.

We are now living in a world where cleanliness has become the most important factor today. Timhuti Medical Supply has recently manufactured a hand sanitizer product that is 70% alcohol-based and safe to use for you & your family.

Hands On Hand Sanitizer, is an antibacterial squeeze for on the go use. We aim to make a difference in terms of cleanliness to the world around us by promoting healthy hygiene habits.
